Profile

I am a Liberian currently a Senior Student at the University of Lay Adventists of Kigali. Reading Information System and Management , I've cultivated a strong foundation in System Management through. My academic endeavors have honed my analytical thinking, problem-solving skills, and ability to work collaboratively in diverse teams. Additionally, I've gained practical experience through Projects, allowing me to apply theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios and develop a keen understanding of Information System and Management.

As a lifelong learner, I am committed to continuous the growth and leveraging my education to make meaningful contributions in designing Managing a well organized System that will contribute to the growth of your entity or Organization.
